

June is known as “National Zoo and Aquarium Month.” Some people believe that it is cruel to keep animals and fish in zoos and aquariums. Others believe that these locations are a place for injured animals to live and provide humans with a better understanding and respect for wild animals. What is your opinion?